M.P.'s Are Told Of Low Wage Levels Found In Quebec

CONTRACT SYSTEM

The auditor said there were from 150 to 200 clothing contractors in Montreal, and sometimes sub-contractors. They had small plants of their own, receiving orders from larger manufacturers. In two shops examined, every woman received less than the minimum wages set by law. There were two types of manufacturer, Mr. Glasco told the committee—those who manufactured themselves and those who used contract labor in one form or another.

SHOE FACTORY WAGES

Seventy-one men and boys in a Province of Quebec shoe factory had been paid weekly earnings of $4.71 this year the committee was told by Auditor Glasco. The average wage for the forty-eight women in the plant was $6.83, with the vast majority at the $6 level.

"That is terrible," commented chairman H. H. Stevens, when the auditor referred to twenty-four boys in the factory earning an average of $2.22 a week. The shoe factories examined in Quebec have been increasing in the number of boys in their employ since higher minimum wages were set for women. The Quebec act, like Ontario's does not touch boys or men, and there has been nothing to prevent payment to men and boys of wages below the minimum for women. Names of the shoe factories were not made public.

It was apparent, said the chairman, general wages in some Quebec shoe factories were "scandalously low." Stevens, and the Liberal, Toronto, referred sarcastically to "the proud record of the Canadian standard of living."

OPERATE AT PROFIT

The financial position of the eight shoe manufacturing companies examined into was sound, and during the last four or five years the earnings were generally very stable, said the accountant. Management and executive salaries seemed reasonable. The prices at which shoes were sold to department stores and small retailers were not readily comparable, but the department stores appeared to purchase most of the slow-moving merchandise seasonally cleared from manufacturers' stocks at reduced prices, said the accountant. Those companies selling a large portion of their output to small retailers suffered heavy losses from bad debts, said the witness.

WAGE RULES VARY

During the last few years a number of small shoe companies had started business in small towns and the country districts of Quebec. The Quebec minimum wage board, the accountant stated, had established three classifications, which resulted in widely varying rates. Between Montreal and smaller towns. The comparative legal minimums for fully experienced female workers were:

City and Island of Montreal 22.9 cents per hour.

Other cities and towns of over 3,000 population 20.2 cents per hour.

Towns and villages under 3,000 population 18.7 cents per hour.

With several notable exceptions the wages paid were found to be below the minimum rates in certain cases very considerably below, stated Mr. Glasco. The provisions of the act which limited the proportion of female apprentices to 50 per cent of the total was not regularly observed. Generally speaking, the records maintained by the companies as to hours of labor and experience of workers were incomplete.

No union organizations were observed in the companies visited, and in certain cases male workers, including boy apprentices, were employed at extremely low rates, the accountant said.

TWO COMPANIES FINED

The only company investigated in Montreal appeared to be paying female employees less than the minimum wage, and the average wage paid to male employees was actually below that paid to females. This company and another company investigated outside of Montreal had been fined for infringement of the Minimum Wage Act.

The accountant had been informed by Gustave France of the Quebec Minimum Wage Board that others of the eight companies investigated had avoided prosecution by agreement to pay employees sufficient to bring their earnings to the legal minimum. Five of the eight companies reviewed broke the minimum wage law stipulating no plant could have more than 50 per cent of its female payroll inexperienced. The auditor said four of the companies had 80 per cent or more of their woman employees inexperienced.

The following was a list submitted of the eight companies, showing the month moratorium—but also empowers action against any country setting quotas on British exports. The Board of Trade would be able to prohibit or restrict imports from any country using the quota system in a manner considered adverse to British interests, in the double-edged weapon the government has forged. The bill itself is entitled, "The Deliberate Clearing of Import and Export Restriction Bill."

The measure contains no specific reference to Germany. It applies to any foreign country which has stopped payments or transfers "to persons ordinarily resident or ordinarily carrying on business in the United Kingdom."

The purpose in securing such wide powers, it is understood, is to meet the situation which would arise if Germany took counteraction against the clearing house plan by applying new quotas to British imports, as has been threatened.

READY FOR NEW MOVES

Thus, in addition to providing a clearing house from which the balance of payments to Germany is to be controlled, the bill provides that the international trade exchange may be deducted and applied to creditors under the loans, that bill provides weapons for meeting retaliation.

A section in the bill provides that "if it appears to the Board of Trade that in any foreign country quantitative restrictions are, or are about to be, imposed on imports into that country of goods of any class or description grown, produced or manufactured in or consigned from a country to which this section applies, the board may make an order prohibiting or restricting for any such period as may be specified in the order the importation into the United Kingdom of goods of any such class or description as may be so specified, being goods grown, produced or manufactured in or consigned from that foreign country."

VIENNA CASE CLUES GROW

Vienna authorities are convinced the forty-three-year-old New York and Detroit woman lawyer is dead. While police were confident Foderer was heavily involved in the mystery, they expressed belief Suzanne Ferrand, the Frenchwoman with whom Foderer was living here, had no connection with it.

New York, June 21.—The hope of solving the mystery of the missing Miss Agnes Tuterson lay to-day in the graves of Greater New York. On the theory that the woman—a shrewd and successful lawyer—until she married Captain Ivan Foderer—was slain and the body buried secretly, police directed an inquiry into all recent burials which might have been done under unusual circumstances.

The co-operation of neighboring authorities was enlisted in a message spread through up-state New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Vienna police reported that unless the body was found, they might be obliged to permit their prisoner, Captain Foderer, international soldier of fortune, to go free, though they hoped developments in Vienna might bolster their case.

Captain John H. Ayres announced detectives working in Philadelphia had been unable to find any trace of a reported visit to that city by Miss Tuterson last December 15 and 16. It was established, he said, that Miss Tuterson was in New York City during the regular banking hours of those two days.

This fact, the captain said, eliminated the possibility Miss Tuterson herself transferred shares of Chase National Bank stock in Philadelphia on either of the two days mentioned.

"This is a lamentable picture for Canada," remarked the chairman when the committee turned to another subject, conditions in the Quebec clothing industry.

At yesterday's sitting of the Stevens committee details of sweatshop conditions in eight shoe factories in different parts of Quebec were disclosed. Investigating auditors said they had found many breaches of Quebec minimum wages laws and the evidence probably will be passed on for prosecution.

Here were the highlights of one plant:

It had made substantial profits for four years.

The average weekly wage paid women employees in October, 1933, was $7.75.

The average for 172 men was $9.39. Of the 172 men, 126 were married with 40 dependents.

Eighty-two men received less than $8 a week.

There were two accidents in one week—one operator lost a finger from the owner of the factory leaning over the shoulders of his workers, shouting at them to speed up their work.

Fifty per cent of the men and boys in the plant last October received less than the minimum wage set for inexperienced women. The Quebec law does not touch men.

One investigator asked a man how he existed on his wages. The reply was that four families lived in one piece of bread for his lunch.

"But how can these people live?" asked Samuel Factor. "If I were the executive of a department store, I certainly would inquire about such terrible wages."

There was an audible gasp in the committee room when the auditor told of work being done in homes by adults and children. About $1.50 would be paid for jobs requiring ten hours of adult work, although it was impossible to say what percentage was done by children.

OTTAWA WAGES

Ottawa, June 21.—Only ten regular employees of the A. J. Freeman department store of Ottawa were receiving less than $12 a week out of a total of 311. The Commons mass buying committee was told yesterday by the committee's auditor. In a previous Canadian Press report the word "ten" was transmitted through error for "ten," which might have led to the conclusion a larger number than ten received under $12.

Light, Swift Vessels Required For Trade Protection, U.S. Delegates Are Told During Naval Discussions in London

The traditional British policy of numerous light cruisers to cover her wide trade routes, as against the fewer but more offensively-built heavy cruisers favored by the United States, was covered in the statement, which was so detailed the Americans received merely for transmission to Washington.

The delegates engaging in the present conversations are merely seeking an agreement on the procedure and agenda which may be followed in the big naval conference, when it is held. Concerning larger principles of national ratios, levels of armaments and tonnage, they have no power to reach any decision.

FOLLOWED OTHERS' LEAD

British experts informed the Americans Great Britain needs more surface craft of every type, but especially the lighter, swifter category. The British would never have built cruisers of more than 7,500 tons, armed with six-inch guns, had not the United States and Japan gone in for the heavier class.

What proposals were actually made will remain undisclosed, but apparently the British put in the bid for a bigger navy all round, aimed especially at the hampering restriction of thirty cruisers to which the Empire is bound at present.

JAPAN'S POSITION

Naval men to-day were interested in another of the numerous official or unofficial Japanese statements about party with Britain and the United States, conveyed in a cable from Tokyo which said the admiralty spokesman had declared it was "essential" to revise the ratio, now standing at 6-5-3.

PARIS, June 21.—Although France has accepted the invitation of Great Britain to participate in discussion preliminary to next year's Naval Conference, difficulties in the way of such participation have been reported.

In parliamentary circles it was said France is urging Soviet Russia also be asked to take part in the preliminary discussions. The same quarters it was reported Italy also invited to present its views on naval matters in London, is insisting Germany be asked to the sessions.

Because of the present uncertainties and the divergence in French and British views high officials here refused to say definitely the French delegation to London would be headed by Francis Pietri, Minister of the Navy. It was indicated in some quarters minor technical men will be sent.

HITLER SEES HINDENBURG

Von Papen's Speech and Mussolini Talks Are Topics of Conversations

Berlin, June 21.—Chancellor Hitler left for Weimar to consult President Paul von Hindenburg, who yesterday endorsed a vigorous criticism of the Nazi regime by Franz von Papen, Vice-Chancellor.

Officially Hitler's purpose was to report to the Reich President on the Venice meetings with Premier Mussolini. But it was generally assumed Von Papen's speech would constitute an important added subject for the conversations.

President von Hindenburg, it is known, agrees on many points with Von Papen, who represents the conservative element in the government.

A spokesman emphasized Hitler and Von Papen would not be at Neudeck Palace, following the latter also will soon visit the President.

"They have settled their differences," the spokesman added.

Political observers said Von Papen's position following his criticism of Sunday in which he scored radical experiments and "muzzling" of the press, was greatly strengthened by Von Hindenburg's brief telegram of approval.

HEAVY OUAKE ROCKS TURKEY DEFEATED MAN MAY BE M.P.P.

Smyrna, Turkey, June 21.—The region Afion-Karhisar, in Western Anatolia, was shaken late yesterday by a violent earthquake which lasted twenty seconds. Shocks continued at intervals throughout the night.

Damage was heavy and there were believed to have been many human casualties, although the number could not be determined immediately.

Shocks of considerable violence were experienced also at Diner, Samsatli and Dulavac.

Many buildings, including a number of schools and government institutions, were badly cracked. Hundreds of houses were reported wrecked by cloudbursts in a fierce storm which followed the quake.

Liberal Regime At Ottawa Is Predicted For Early Date

"Lessons deriving from the results show new or third parties have no appeal to public opinion; the Canadian people do not want them. Mr. Hapburn's attack on the Ontario Hydro plan is a warning to state ownership proponents; the Ontario voters viewed the scheme from afar and acted accordingly."

"My hearty congratulations to Messrs. Hapburn and Gardiner."

London, June 21.—The Yorkville Post, leading provincial paper, which has been following Canadian affairs closely in view of the hostile trade fight for lower duties in Canada, declared to-day the Liberal victory in Ontario and Saskatchewan "can hardly fail to have some effect on the Conservative position in the federal parliament."

Prime Minister Bennett, the Post believes, "will probably go some hard thinking over whether to appeal to the country forthwith while the benefits to Canada from the Ottawa agreements are fresh. But as far as the agreements themselves are concerned there would be no reason to view a Liberal victory with apprehension."

TURNOVER FORESHADOWED

The Manchester Guardian declared the results could leave Mr. Bennett "in little doubt as to what his fate will be when the Dominion Parliament is dissolved next summer. The Liberal organ said it would seem the bulk of the Canadian people agreed with Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, federal leader of the Liberals. "That what the Dominion needs is neither the short-sighted economic nationalism of which Mr. Bennett is the prophet, nor a resolution leading to a bureaucratic state, but above all else a release from the stranglehold of high tariffs and a return of the Liberal outlook."

NO EARLY ELECTION MOVE BY BENNETT

Premier Tells Commons Best Interests of Canada Must Decide Date

Ottawa, June 21.—The Commons was told by Premier Bennett yesterday afternoon that when the interests of the country required a general election the House would be dissolved.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, had suggested that, "in view" of the results of Tuesday's general election, the House should be dissolved, and having regard to the fact that the election campaigns had been participated in by the members of the government, including the Prime Minister, it should be a dissolution of the House immediately on the conclusion of the present session.

The government, said the Prime Minister, would not accept the proposal. General respecting a dissolution of the House when, in the opinion of the government, the interests of the country required it.

touch with the Dionnes and their solicitor.

"There are certain clauses in the agreement objectionable to the family," said Mr. McCaughy to-day. "These they want modified, and we are co-operating in every way. There have been no promoters rushing in and out of the Dionne house, they have become suspicious of everybody."

MONEY RETURNED

Asked if all the money forwarded to Mr. Dionne had been returned to the bureau, Mr. McCaughy declared that report was correct, but denied there had been any intervention by the Ontario government.

"The refusal of the first payment, however, had no bearing on the validity of the contract," he said. "The agreement, he explained, was 'iron-clad' and under no other conditions could the babies be exhibited by any other parties, either in the United States or Canada."

"But we are quite willing to be reasonable and are not trying to force the issue," he said. "We are willing to act on the doctor's advice as to when the children can be moved. No further cheques are being forwarded on legal advice, but this will in no way affect the contract."

ONTARIO AND SASKATCHEWAN

THE ELECTORS OF ONTARIO AND SASKATCHEWAN have demonstrated very conclusively that not only have they had enough of Conservative administrations, but they have no liking for the policies advocated by the C.C.F. in its various transformations. While there is very little left of the Conservative party in the historic Tory stronghold of Ontario, only one C.C.F. candidate was returned. In Saskatchewan, where the C.C.F. was expected to make a strong showing, but five Farmer-Labor aspirants were elected, and the Conservatives were wiped off the political map. Obviously, the electorate in each case refused to be stampeded either in the direction of reactionism or of advanced radicalism. They preferred to stick to the middle of the road. The electors of Canada as a whole will adopt a similar attitude when a federal appeal takes place. The Canadian people mean to preserve their democratic institutions; they will permit no invasion of their rights and privileges in favor of dictatorship either by one end or the other.

While the issues in each case were essentially provincial, federal policies naturally played a considerable part in the campaigns. The marketing bill and other measures adopted at Ottawa were expected to rally the farmers to the Conservative side in both of those provinces, and there must be keen disappointment in the Bennett government that they failed to do so. Ontario, particularly, is poor battleground for issues which involve the subordination of Parliament to any governmental body. It fought too hard and long for representative institutions to allow them to go by the board, and no policy can be endorsed there which is calculated to undermine the supremacy over government of the electors through the people they elect. On that issue, no matter what may be the nature of the legislation in which it is involved, Ontario remains adamant.

An election in Ontario holds extraordinary significance for the whole of Canada, since that province is the most populous and wealthy section of the Canadian confederation. It has the largest representation in the House of Commons and, notwithstanding the growth of the west in political power and influence, it is still very definitely the heart of Canada. Since Quebec, which has the second largest representation in Parliament, is of similar sentiment on fundamental issues, and in the next federal election will send an almost unanimous contingent to Ottawa, the outcome of the next nation-wide appeal to the electors is fully assured for Liberalism, without even counting the west or the Maritime Provinces.

In a party sense, the Conservatives are completely out of the picture, and their representation in the next federal Parliament will be unusually small. Indeed, it is not improbable that the C.C.F. whose proportion will be meagre enough, will compose the chief opposition of the House which will arise from the next Dominion contest. Ontario, Quebec and Saskatchewan have approximately three-fourths of the population of Canada. They produce the greater part of the Dominion's wealth, and between them they exercise a dominant influence upon public thought and policy. They are largely agrarian, which means that they have a hard-headed electorate, which can not be ballyhooed into extreme action, and which for many years will determine the course which Canada will pursue through the bewildering mazes of these times.

THE HONEST MAN

THERE IS SOMETHING IN THE STATEMENT made by the pilot of the ill-fated German steamship Dresden, which ran aground off Norway yesterday with the loss of four lives, that restores one's faith in human character.

Pilot Tacogren said to-day: "I take sole responsibility for the Dresden disaster. No other explanation is possible for this unavoidable tragedy. Although I have nothing with which to pay the material damage, the moral responsibility is heavy enough. The waters of Karsund are difficult to navigate, but I have piloted here more than thirty years, and therefore have an intimate knowledge of them. The disaster was caused by a greater drifting than I estimated."

Here is a man who recognizes that even the experts in every form of human activity make mistakes or err in their scientific calculations. Thirty years this man Tacogren had piloted in these treacherous waters, apparently without accident. Then came the unexpected, tragic, incident. Four lives were lost—and "I take the sole responsibility!" Tacogren has made a clean breast of it. "The moral responsibility is heavy enough!" The men who go down to the sea in ships do not put up alibis.

THESE CHANGING TIMES

EXAMINATION OF THE POLITICAL history of Canada for the last nine months obviously reveals that the Conservative party has fallen on evil days.

The first jolt to be administered to the Conservatives of Canada came from Nova Scotia. After a brief term of Tory rule, the government of Premier Harrington, in August, last year, went down to defeat. The Liberals elected twenty-two members and the Conservatives eight.

In November, last year, the Tolmie government, after running its constitutional five years, and after twelve years of Liberal administration, left office, and Mr. Pattullo elected thirty-four Liberals in a Legislature composed of a membership of forty-seven.

On Tuesday, in Ontario, Mr. Mitchell Hepburn led the Liberal forces to victory by getting sixty-five of his followers elected to a House which will number ninety members. Opposing his government will be seventeen Conservatives. He most likely will have the support of four Liberal-Progressives. There will be one C.C.F., one Independent, and one

Liberal-Labor, the latter hardly being considered an opposition member. Not since the Ross government was defeated in 1905 has Ontario had a straight Liberal administration.

The new Legislature in Saskatchewan will be unique in the history of the province since its creation in 1905, for there will not be a Conservative in the next House. Up till 1929, Saskatchewan had had Liberal governments. Even in the election of that year, the Liberals elected more members than the Conservatives, but Mr. Anderson, who led the Conservative party, was able to obtain the support of Independents, and was thus enabled to carry on. The next House however, will be composed of forty-nine Liberals, five Farmer-Laborites—C.C.F.—while the riding of Athabasca will not be heard from until July 24. As a party, therefore, the Conservatives in Saskatchewan, as far as legislative representation is concerned, is for the time being in a state of total eclipse.

The result in Ontario and Saskatchewan recalls the famous "Winnipeg Death Pact," when Premier Henry and Premier Anderson communed with one another in the Manitoba capital and decided to go to the country on the same day. This, at the time, was interpreted as an admission on the part of both of them that the sands of their respective political fortunes were running low.

Then it is to be recalled that in October, last year, there were Dominion by-elections in Mackenzie, Sask., Restigouche-Madawaska, New Brunswick, and in Yamaska, Que. Three Liberals were elected; there were two Liberal gains, one from the Conservatives and one from the Progressives.

On April 16, this year, the riding of South Oxford was retained by the Liberal, but with a majority that was fifty-five in 1930 increased to more than 1,600 this year—the greatest majority ever rolled up in the history of the constituency.

The political history of the last nine months, therefore, would appear to be the case of coming events, federally speaking, casting their shadows before.

HINDENBURG AND HITLER

IN A DISPATCH FROM BERLIN TO-DAY we are told that Chancellor Hitler has left for Neudeck to consult President von Hindenburg, who evidently is quite pleased about Vice-Chancellor von Papen's speech to the students of Marburg University on Sunday, wherein he attacked Nazi policies.

It is suggested that Hitler's main motive in going to Neudeck is to tell the President what transpired at Venice when he conferred with Premier Mussolini the other day.

Muzzling of the German press, of course, makes it somewhat difficult for the outside world to get the true perspective of the domestic political situation in Germany.

What is fairly clear, however, is that Chancellor Hitler has abdicated his supreme authority, for if he had maintained the role which authorized the persecution of the Jews, the suppression of the newspapers which dared to criticize his policies, he would have sent Herr von Papen to a concentration camp.

Chancellor Hitler's visit to President Paul von Hindenburg will give "Germany's Grand Old Man"—the man who did not run away, as Wilhelm Hohenzollern did—a chance to tell the young man from Bavaria that he has yet a good deal to learn.

Vice-Chancellor von Papen may have reactionary views; but he at least is seized with the necessity of directing 65,000,000 people along the path which does not lead to their domination by forces which might well be unleashed under a form of government which does not recognize the rights of the people.

A CHESTNUT NOW

FROM TIME TO TIME SOME BRIGHT person suggests that a part of the British Commonwealth might be traded to the United States in payment of Great Britain's war debt owing to that country.

What these people always seem to forget is that on the pieces of land upon which their imaginative eye is brought to rest in pecuniary contemplation there are men, women, and children who may not want to be traded as if they were so many cattle on a saleable farm.

The latest suggestion comes from a Conservative member of the British House of Commons, who wanted to know from Premier MacDonald whether the government would consider the handing over of Bermuda, or any other territory, in order to get "paid" put on the United States bill against Britain.

The Prime Minister answered: "There could under no circumstances be any question of such an arrangement."

Mr. MacDonald's reply should be considered the declaration of a "closed season" for silly adults whose jaundiced view of the rights of people in British countries belongs to the middle ages.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

PUT OUT THE WRONG FIRE
The St. John Telegraph-Journal

The old theme of labor lost has seldom been more dramatically enacted than it was at South Glastonbury, Conn. A farmer had laboriously collected a pile of brush. With reasonable safeguards he set fire to it. About the same time there was an accidental farm fire nearby. The fire brigade, responding to a call, put out the wrong fire with remarkable efficiency and despatch. Naturally the effort was wasted. The real fire did its work.

FREEDOM'S LAST STAND
The Winnipeg Tribune

The women of Athens, Georgia, becoming suspicious over the frequent absences of their husbands at what the latter claimed were lodge meetings, appealed to the newspapers of that town to publish attendance lists for each lodge.

Thus has the last citadel of masculine liberty been assaulted. In the good old days, if a man was a good joiner he might expect to spend three or four evenings a week in masculine company instead of staying at home and discussing the price of groceries and children's shoes with his helpmate.

A THOUGHT

I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Bondage is hoarse and may not speak loud.—Shakespeare.

Loose Ends

Vancouver is full of jungle savages and a childlike faith—Mr. Bennett has an opportunity to record a tragedy—and the party is more refined than usual.

By H.B.W.

JUNGLE FOLK

IF YOU ARE inclined to think that the world is growing hard and cynical and losing its childlike faith in things, pick up the classified section of a Vancouver paper. I have one before me now, and I have just counted up advertisements there for fourteen separate fortune tellers, palmists, card readers and astrologists. There they are spread through a rich study in human nature, between "the middle-aged Christian man with a steady job who wishes to meet a sober-minded lady, matrimony is quitable," and the lost brown spaniel, male, white and brown, answering to the name of "Punch."

They will tell you anything, these competent seers. They will advise you on love affairs, domestic questions and, with rare understanding of up-to-the-minute salesmanship, on mining stocks. By the number who will advise you on mining stocks, it is apparent that many of our most successful mining men and brokers make their money by this simple method of consultation. After this, I shall follow the same system, since all expert advice has only succeeded in making me the chief sucker of the village, until I am inclined, indeed, to the belief that our numerous mines are being worked by Major Hoople and his gallant crew of the "Little Phoebe."

Just the same it is a solemn thought, in this time of materialism, when nobody is supposed to believe anything, that there are thousands of people in the great modern city of Vancouver who accept astrology, second sight and all manner of jungle mysticism with the faith of little children. The world is full of African savages who follow their fetishes in modern clothes and stream-lined cars. Vancouver isn't far from the Middle Ages, really, and your next-door neighbor may be just a cave man in disguise.

It is a solemn and depressing thought. Which reminds me that next time I am in Vancouver I must have tea at the Georgia, where there is a charming lady of middle-age who told me, while I was on my way to the Cariboo a couple of months ago, that I was going to Washington and would see the President. I am confident now that she is infallible.

OPPORTUNITY

IT IS NOW clear that the Canadian Government has lost the confidence of the Canadian people. Throughout the country the provincial elections have gone against the Conservative Party. Under one pretext or another the government is supposed to last only so long as it holds the country's confidence; though in actual practice, of course, it lasts as long as its members in Parliament think they can safely draw their indemnities.

But here is a real chance for Mr. Bennett, while obviously defeated, to go down in history as a man of courage. If he will tell the people frankly that they are entitled to vote on his record and call an immediate election, he will be defeated, of course. But he will be remembered, not as a successful politician, but as a gallant sportsman, which is much better. After all, an election is soon forgotten in the long procession of elections. It's the kind of man you have been that counts in other days.

OBITUARY

FOR A WEEK we watched our quintuplets in their little house in the white broom bush. We got so that we could almost tell them apart, and their father and mother, the grey sparrows, came to trust us implicitly. THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELS

GLAD TIMES
Do not believe because my words are few
That I have failed in my best's devotion.
For I have not one thought but hastes to you.
You are the goal which quickens each emotion.
As those of sap rush upward in the spring,
Although through many a limb and leaf
They are evoked by but one God, one King.
The sun, infinitely far out yonder,
So all my rising hopes toward you are turned.
And, while by devious ways my life is bidden,
You are my soul; no sun that ever burned
Sent such glad times through lifted branches flooding.
And though my path is intricate, in-
By you the riddle of me must be solved.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

JUNE 21, 1909

(From The Times Files)

The annual rose show of the Victoria Horticultural Association takes place next week. The event is arranged for Tuesday of next week and will be held at Assembly Hall, Fort Street, and promises to be one of the best ever to be held in the city. There are more rose growers here than there ever were before, and there is a growing interest being taken in the show.

In one of the roughest matches played in Vancouver for many a day, the champion New Westminster lacrosse team won their second match of the season from the Vancouver by a score of nine goals to eight. The referee was A. W. Gray of New Westminster.

Read Brooks by his remarkable riding last week now heads the list of winning jockeys with thirteen wins, nine seconds and one third, on the Willows track. Last week he rode a champion horse and his riding has placed him in the position of being able to select his mounts.

Frank Baylis, the popular long distance runner of the city, who has been the victor in the valuable cup put up by the Victoria Sporting Goods Company, the organizers of the race. The time taken was one hour and two minutes.

The race started from in front of the Victoria Sporting Goods store on Douglas at 3:30 and the winner, being one dollar. This is expected, will bring a large crowd to this city.

A special excursion will be run to this city on Thursday next by the steamer Chippewa from Bellingham and Anacortes, the round trip being one dollar. This is expected, will bring a large crowd to this city.

Victoria School of Expression Will Give Recital at New Thought Hall Friday

On Friday evening next at 8 o'clock in the New Thought Hall, Fort Street, the Victoria School of Expression will give a musical and elocutionary recital.

Included in the programme will be the beautiful choruses for which the school choir won first place in the recent Musical Festival, and the selections of the Fireside Group, for which they received first place with ninety marks, the adjudicator remarking that the work was up to the standard of the finest he had heard in British festivals.

The following first place winners in the provincial festivals will also take part: Ronald McDonald, Hilda Kyle, Freda Mattress, Captain Wilfrid Ord, Ronald Barker, William McPhail, Kathleen Craig, George Little and Lillian Pitkethley.

An adult verse reading choir will also be heard for the first time in Victoria.

Available seats are limited, but may be reserved through the studio.

CANNING TIME

Having necessary equipment on hand, as shown here, and adequate sterilization are the first essentials of successful canning.

By MARY DAGUE

Your canning equipment will depend on what you can. Fruits and tomatoes may be canned in several ways successfully. The hot-water bath canner, a "waterless cooker," a steamer or a heat-controlled oven and the hot-pack method of canning insure good results. The hot-water bath canners, steamers and "waterless cookers" can be bought in most house-furnishing stores and are available in various sizes.

The home-canning of non-acid vegetables such as peas, beans, corn, spinach and so forth involves a situation to which you should give considerable thought. It is almost impossible to effect adequate sterilization of these vegetables by ordinary methods of canning. Universities all over the country as well as the department of agriculture recommend that all vegetables canned at home—with the exception of tomatoes—be canned in a steam pressure cooker.

However, if you do have your own garden and want to can these so-called non-acid vegetables and you feel that you can't invest in a steam pressure cooker, you can use the hot-water canner providing you take certain precautions. It has been found that the addition of a little acid aids in the preservation of these vegetables without seriously affecting the flavor of the canned product. From one to two teaspoons lemon juice added to each pint jar of asparagus, string beans, peas, greens and corn makes it possible to can fresh perfect vegetables without danger of spoilage. Corn requires two teaspoons lemon juice to a pint. This gives a slightly acid flavor when the jar is opened for serving, but one-eighth teaspoon soda added with the seasoning when the vegetable is reheated neutralizes the acid most satisfactorily. The other vegetables, which do not pack so closely in jars, require less lemon juice and the flavor cannot be detected.

Successful canning depends on the principle of sterilization. Food which has been made sterile must be kept so and the efficiency of these processes is the answer to the canning problem.

In addition to the necessity of a temperature which will kill germs and perfect, complete sealing to keep out germ-laden air, several other factors must be considered in the work of canning.

PICK SOUND MATERIALS

I want to emphasize that canning does not in any way improve the quality of the product canned. Fruits and vegetables which were old and tasteless before canning will be just that way after canning. Produce which is bruised or speckled has begun to be attacked by bacteria which is not destroyed in the sterilization of canning. Consequently only sound, fresh materials should ever be canned.

Fruits and vegetables canned in glass should be stored in a dark place. Light will cause the foods to lose their color, which of course detracts from their appearance when served. The temperature at which canned vegetables are stored is also important, since it has a pronounced effect on the keeping qualities. Store them in as cool a place as possible, preferably between 45 and 60 degrees F.

EPICURES CLUB TO EAT HERONS

Londoners to Enjoy Selves on Young Birds; Chrysanthemum Soup Served

London, June 21.—Members of the Epicures Club are going to enjoy themselves.

Heron is playing havoc in southern trout streams, and the word has gone forth that their numbers should be reduced. Owners of streams have been asked to send any "kills" to the club for their next feast.

Half-grown birds are very tasty when served in the fashion beloved of Tudor kings.

Heron is not the only delicacies of which use is not habitually made, but which would greatly add to the enjoyment of the table. Hedgehogs, for instance.

That is a good old English dish which has gone out of fashion since the middle ages. Hedgehog is now recommended thoroughly. The flesh is clean, tender and appetizing.

Not long ago chrysanthemum soup found its place in the menu at a London dinner party—made of the plant's leaves boiled and flavored with herbs and spices. But it is not generally served even in the most exclusive restaurants.

THE SAD FATE OF SULTAN

People the other side of the English Channel are more venturesome. For instance, there is the sad story of Sultan, a lion in a French menagerie. He lost his sight and had to be destroyed. A few days later roast lion was the tit-bit at a Parisian banquet.

"As tender as veal with the flavor of venison," was the verdict of one guest.

Edible snails, which used to be popular with the Romans, are, of course, still fancied on the Continent, but English people seem to be irrevocably prejudiced against them.

And a few weeks ago a dinner was held in France at which sea anemones and crocodiles' tails were served to the guests. Stewed camel-hump and rebus steaks have also been served the other side of the English Channel.

Just before Christmas the people of Bernese mourned the decision to slaughter the animals in the famous municipal bear pit there—but their grief did not stop them vying with one another for a prime cut when their flesh was distributed free for eating.

What about rats? Listen to the words of a medical officer of health who said a few days ago: "Englishmen have an absurd prejudice against eating rats, which, in nourishment and flavor, are the equal of chickens."

"With my Certo-made jam I won a silver cup at Langley Agricultural Fair. I again was a winner at every Fair this year with my collection of six different varieties of jams—all made with Certo and all perfect."

Quotation from Mrs. R. Medd's letter. Mrs. Medd is a Jam and Jelly Champion of Milner, B.C.

CHAMPION jam and jelly makers swear by the recipes found in the booklet under the label on every Certo bottle. With them you, too, can make jelly and jam of prize-winning quality, colour and flavour, in 1/2 the usual time. And at less cost, in the bargain. Use Certo—follow the recipes exactly—and make perfect jam or jelly every time. In addition, use any fruit you like—fresh, canned or dried—or fruit juice.

CERTO

- The natural jellifying substance extracted from fruit.
- Jells the juice that would have boiled away by the old (long-boil) method.
- Makes 50% more jam or jelly at less cost per jar.
- Saves 2/3 the time. Saves the fruit flavour. Saves the fruit colour.
- Permits the use of any fruit—fresh, canned or dried—or fruit juice.

MOTHERS GO OUT TO CAMP

First Party Left Yesterday
For Sunshine Camp at Saseenos; Funds Needed

Thirty-eight mothers and their children of pre-school age left yesterday afternoon for the first camp of the season at Camp Sunshine, Saseenos, B.C. Carload after carload were driven through the sweet-smelling summer woods, along the winding road, with glimpses first of the gorge waters, then as they neared their destination came miles of dancing blue waves.

An advance party who had been busy since Saturday had their quarters in shining order, and the full camp staff, consisting of director, sports and games leader, cook and most important of all the camp mother, who is also a fully trained nurse, were on hand to welcome the campers. Those who had been to Camp Sunshine in previous years acted as guides to those who were seeing it for the first time, and a tour of inspection was arranged. The nursery, complete with rock gas for heating the water, bassinets, medicine cabinet and other conveniences was equipped by the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E. and various service clubs have given funds to build and equip the sleeping bungalows.

The main building has a large dining hall and kitchen, with sleeping quarters for some of the staff. There is a big fireplace for chilly evenings, and the grown-ups have an hour or so here after the children are in bed. The sum of $2,000 is required to run the camp to capacity for the summer, and the general public, who are all too apt to take pleasant outings in comfortable surroundings for granted, are reminded that their less fortunate fellows are only able to have this two weeks away from crowded, noisy city streets if life will share their good things of life.

MOVIE BABIES' MODEST PAY

Jackie Coogan Only One Who Made Fortune; Baby Leroy
$100 Week

Canadian Press
Hollywood, June 21.—Contrary to popular belief, salaries of movie babies are not so enormous—as Hollywood wages go.

Primarily this is so because the studios put them and other young hopefuls under contract and then see them fail to register. Hence the small starting salary and the option contract system.

True, Jackie Coogan earned a huge fortune, but he is the outstanding exception. Coogan's astute parents arranged "tie-ups" and endorsements for Jackie which are said to have netted him—cool $500,000—in addition to the $2,000,000 the movies paid him. They even sold his life story to a syndicate for $18,000.

Five-year-old Shirley Temple, one of the three current child stars, now gets but $150 a week and it costs her parents well over two-thirds of that wage to keep her in pictures. If she lasts another year or two, her salary will be automatically increased several times.

Baby Leroy is getting $100 a week, twice as much as he was paid a year ago when he made a hit as Monsieur Baby in Chevalier's "Bedtime Story." Jackie Cooper, who is growing rapidly out of the "cuteness" that made him a star three years ago in "Skippy"—presaging the end of his career as a very long—is now getting $1,200 a week. Salaries of the children in the Gang Comedies, from which Jackie was graduated, average about $100 a week.

Nightingale Chapter's
Party Yesterday

Ideal weather added the crowning touch of perfection to the arrangements made by the Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E. for its garden party at the former Ross Sutherland-home on Foul Bay Road yesterday afternoon, the affair proving an outstanding success.

Pupils of Miss Florence Clough danced in the garden, with charming effect against the background of greenery and flowers, and boys from St. Michael's School staged an exhibition of drill.

Throughout the afternoon the Boys' Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster George H. Green, played selections which enhanced the pleasure of the occasion.

THREE-YEAR-OLD BOY IS NUDIST

Canadian Press
Denver, June 21.—Billy Hooks, three years old, is a confirmed nudist, Denver police are convinced. For the fourth time he was discovered to-day wandering on the street in not a stitch. A kindly grocer cut three holes in a big sugar sack and dropped it over the young runaway's head. Because of his previous "record" police had little difficulty in identifying him and sending him home to his anxious mother.

DANCER SUED FOR DIVORCE

Tillie Losch, Dancer, Taken
Ill in London Court;
Prince Named

London, June 21.—Tillie Losch James, well-known Viennese dancer, became ill in divorce court yesterday under the strain of answering the charge of her rich United States husband that she miscondacted herself with Prince Serge Obolensky.

The husband, Edward James, brother of Mrs. Marshall Field, is seeking a divorce on the grounds of infidelity, and the prominence of all concerned in their separate spheres of life has brought a crowd of smartly dressed society people to the courtroom daily.

Some twenty witnesses already have been heard, including persons called from as far away as Hollywood, and Sir Patrick Hastings, attorney for Prince James, estimated that the trial will continue well into next week.

None of the evidence is permitted to be published under the laws of Great Britain dealing with divorce proceedings.

Both the danseuse and Prince Obolensky denied all of James's charges, and the prince retained Roland Oliver as his chief counsel.

McGILL NURSING SCHOOL SAVED

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 21.—Through the efforts of its alumnae and nurses in all parts of Canada, the Graduate School for Nurses at McGill University will be able to carry on its work for another year.

The special finance committee headed by Miss Frances Upton, executive secretary and registrar of the Association of Registered Nurses of the province of Quebec, received such a generous response to its appeal that in addition to financing the school for the coming year a substantial sum has been invested. This is to form the nucleus of an endowment fund which, when completed, will ensure the permanent existence of the school.

"Fresh from the Gardens"

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

"You've a lot of confidence in me, haven't you, Con?" she asked, smiling against his shoulder.

"I'm going to make a real performer out of you yet," he laughed.

Madeline had been married almost a month before she wrote Donna the letter. Then the letter contained more about the animal act than it did of Madeline's marriage. Donna read the letter the day she walked without the aid of a cane.

Donna smiled as she read of Madeline's happiness, frowned over the dangers of the animal act and then tore the letter into pieces. Madeline was right when I said you wouldn't head. That was the end of the Gabriel sisters' act.

Donna was thinking of this last possibility when Bill reached her side. Consequently there was tragedy in her eyes and wishfulness about her mouth.

"Bad news?" he asked abruptly, his gaze indicating the fluttering scraps of paper.

"No, not exactly. My partner is married and has decided to become an animal trainer, that's all."

"Does that make you unhappy?" Donna's voice trembled as she spoke.

"I was right when I said you wouldn't be satisfied here."

"I wasn't thinking of myself," Donna answered. "I'm through with the circus unless you and grandfather decide you don't want me here. I'm quite strong enough now to take a few lessons in management of the farm and unless you are too busy to give them to me I'd like to start."

"He scowled. "As for instance—"

"I don't know, exactly. You said I was needed here and that I had been at home too much and could continue with your medical course. Well, I'm home to stay and you can go back to school this fall."

"Yes," she said. "You'd be great at a plough, and you could easily tote ten or twelve gallons of milk morning and evening."

HISTORICAL RELIC IN COWICHAN DISTRICT

Old Stone Church that stands at foot of Tzouhalem Mountain, abandoned years ago by the Indians for whom it was built, it holds a foremost place in the folklore of the district.

Mill Bay Is the Newest Island Summer Resort

Within the shadow of the mighty Malahat—in fact, lying at its very foot, is a stretch of shoreline that is comparatively new to the many week-end and holiday seeking people who are daily leaving Victoria for up-island to find health, summer tan and fun. This stretch of fine pebbled shore and splendid salt water bathing is one of the many indentations of the great Saanich Inlet. It is called Mill Bay and it boasts a gentle curving beach about three miles long. On its shoreline are many private summer cottages nestled among the tall swaying trees. There is at least one modern summer resort and one up-to-date auto camp. All this, too, within an hour of Victoria.

On a wooded promontory adjacent to Mill Bay stands the Queen Alexandra Solarium for children. The situation of this great wonder working institution proves that the health-giving quality of sun and air in Mill Bay district must be at a maximum as sea and sun bathing form a large part of the treatment of these little tots.

Kilmalu, situated about a mile and a half along the shore of the bay, is greatly to be recommended to the holiday seeker. Nestled in its setting of green trees, the main building looks much like a palatial private residence. There are also furnished cottages for the convenience of guests. Kilmalu has a surrounding estate of twenty-five acres, its own private beach, bathing and high diving facilities. There is tennis, too, for those who desire, and fishing and shooting in season. The resort itself is modern in all its appointments, and home-grown table produce is a specialty. Kilmalu is also noted for the excellence of its afternoon teas and light suppers.

At the sign of the big birch canoe on the curving shore of the bay near the Solarium, is the Mill Bay Auto Camp. This camp offers a very real welcome to the visiting vacationist. The cabins are modern in every way. There are showers and a community kitchen. For those who wish to really camp close to nature, tents are provided, and for those who may wish to stop for a swim and a meal, Mrs. Thompson, the proprietress, has provided picnic tables. The camp extends to the water's edge and there is a good beach for bathing. The Mill Bay Coffee Shop in connection with the camp, provides the tourist with dairy produce and all general needs—there is even a delightful small library. Delightful afternoon teas are served in Mrs. Thompson's lovely garden. Mill Bay is really a very important point in a holiday itinerary, if for no other reason than it is here one finds the motor ferry, flying between Brentwood and Mill Bay, this ferry cuts off the tortuous climb of the Malahat and shortens actual driving time by many minutes. The fun, overlooking the waters of the bay, the only about twenty minutes, across sheltered waters and with a panoramic view of the Saanich Inlet thrown in.

In making plans for the coming summer week-ends, or for the longer year's vacation, Mill Bay, within easy reach of Victoria, should indeed tempt the exploring vacationist to stop and stay awhile.

Cowichan Bay Holds Promise For Vacations

Fishing and Sport Abound; Choice Resorts Cater to Tourists

Few spots along the Vancouver Island coast are more attractive than the far-famed Cowichan Bay, situated just a few miles south of Duncan, on the Island Highway—and less than two hours drive from Victoria. This land-locked body of salt water is advantageously situated in a gentle curve of the shoreline. Across the blue green waters the huge bulk of Salt Spring Island rises against the sky, giving the whole scene much the appearance of a calm mountain lake. At the head of the bay the two great rivers, Koksilah and Cowichan, empty their waters into the sea. Beyond the river flats Mount Tzouhalem, so dear to the heart of every Cowichan Indian, stands guard over the farthest shore. Over all this scenic beauty is an air of enchantment that ever calls to the visitor in search of a real holiday.

For many years Cowichan Bay has been known to hold some of the finest fishing to be found on the coast. The excellence of the trolling in these protected waters has brought fame to the whole district. Of recent years has been added the sport of catching salmon on a fly. To an ardent fisherman the thrill of a large fish on the end of a light trace, free from the heavy weights that hamper play on a trolling line, cannot be equalled. It is no wonder that when the first run enters the bay, there is to be found in every resort and camp along the shore a gathering of the "elect" from far and near.

A mecca for fishermen or for the holiday seeker who wishes rest and relaxation, is Cowichan Bay Inn, overlooking the waters of the bay. Built on the historic site of the old "John Bull Inn," a hotel that served the surrounding district back in the early days of the Island's life, this new and up-to-date hotel is becoming increasingly popular as the seasons come and go. The Inn boasts a splendid location, with the beach running down to the water from the very foot of the hotel steps. No more glorious sight can be seen than a sunset over the bay, with the sun sinking behind the purpling hills, as viewed from the deep veranda of the Inn. There is warm sea bathing, tennis, and for those who enjoy delving into the past of a people, much historical interest to delight.

INDIAN LORE
The Cowichan district boasts one of the oldest tribes of Indians upon the Island. Within a short distance of the bay are to be found relics of the early days of their might. Still living on the reservations are old men and women who can tell stories of the days before the white man came. Near the foot of Tzouhalem Mountain at the head of the bay, is the grave of Chief Sull-a-malt, a great Indian warrior, around whose name many strange tales are told. This is the old deserted stone church, too. The church that still stands without doors or windows. So it has stood for many a long day, and many are the tales as to why it should remain so.

Driving out from Victoria the highway leaves the sea at the foot of the Malahat and strikes off inland until it reaches the long curving hill that leads down to the wide sweep of Cowichan Bay. The motorist following the curving descent must surely find himself when he reaches the bay, turning up the short road that leads to "Buena Vista," the summer resort with the "beautiful view." High up against the side of the hill this modern hotel stands, its many windowed rooms and wide verandas commanding a sweeping view of the bay and the shore lines for many miles in either direction. Buena Vista is situated in one of the most striking situations on the Island. Standing as it does at the southern approach to the bay, it has that air of smiling at weary travellers and offering them a gay hand of welcome to the district.

For those who like the seclusion of the wooded grounds, combined with the dainty appointments of a quiet country inn, Branksome Dene Lodge, situated near the highway, in its thirty acres of beautiful grounds, is an ideal place to spend a summer vacation. It is possible here to stay at the lodge or live in one of the many modern cabins scattered about the grounds. There is tennis, fishing, bathing, golf and riding—everything that makes for a perfect holiday, and Mrs. Maxwell, the hostess at the lodge, does everything within her power to make her guests happy.

Cowichan Bay calls to everyone who loves the great outdoors, and for those who search out its wonders it gives a welcome that will long be remembered in the vacationist's treasured outdoor hours.

PUPILS STAGE SHOW OF WORK

Fashion Parade is Highlight of Exhibition at Lampson Street School

The large crowd of parents and visitors who thronged the hall of the Lampson Street School, Esquimalt, yesterday afternoon and evening testified to the wide interest felt in the work of that institution. The occasion was an exhibition of the work of pupils of all grades.

The highlight of the show took the form of a fashion parade in the afternoon, when a large party of girls, under the direction of Miss M. Scott, of the economics department, displayed in true mannequin fashion the clothes which they had themselves made. Aprons were shown by girls of Grade 4, beach pyjamas by Grade 7 and dresses by Grade 8.

Considerable attention was also drawn by the model Napoleonic coach which last year won a trip to the Chicago World's Fair for its maker, Carson Peckhold.

Nurse E. Morrison delivered an interesting lecture on the feeding of school children. She exhibited charts to illustrate her points, and parents were asked to inspect tables set with suitable meals, and a specially planned lunch basket.

The walls and several tables in the hall were devoted to specimens of drawing, penmanship, design and poster work. Interesting exhibits of woodwork, ranging from simple pieces such as dish stands to large and beautifully-finished chests and coat racks, attracted considerable attention and comment from the visitors.

ALBERNI NOTES

Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle of Colwood and Langford occupied the pulpit of All Saints' and St. Alban's Anglican Churches for the special children's services on Sunday. Rev. Glen Stevenson, rector of the Alberni district, exchanged pulpits and conducted services at Langford and Colwood.

Rev. Glen and Mrs. Stevenson were dinner hosts on Monday evening for Mr. Max Clarke Wright of the staff of the Alberni district High School, whose marriage to Miss Eleanor Butler of Vancouver will take place at the beginning of next month. Students attending the high school tendered Mr. Wright a luncheon and presented him with a wedding gift of handsome colonial book ends.

NATIONAL

The Railways Offer Special Vacation Inducements.

All railways are anxious that the public should regard them as more than mere mechanical means of transportation. They wish each patron to feel that he is the object of personal and friendly interest, and that the magnitude of a railway's operations does not obscure the important fact that when all is said and done it is what the patron thinks that really matters. Passenger traffic, it is realized, can only be built up by obtaining and holding the goodwill and approval of those who travel, and it therefore follows that all factors which affect the traveller merit and receive careful study.

One present factor has been fully taken into account. Today people do not have the spending power—nor the spending desires—of a few years ago, and so, as an addition to the regular services, special fares and excursions have been arranged to meet these conditions. For the long distance traveller there is at present in operation the popular cent-a-mile rate which enables the East to visit the West, and the West to return the compliment, at an exceedingly low cost, while for the traveller whose journey is shorter there are frequent special trips at attractive fares. There are also reduced fares for week-ends and low rates for special one-day excursions, as well as for trips extending over three or four days, and for organized groups of travellers consisting of more than ten adults reduced fares are obtainable.

When the other things which railways provide are considered, travel at these fares represents the most economical transportation available. Whatever the fare paid, there is provided the essential quality of safety; there is a maximum of comfort and attention. There are at night restful sleeping facilities at extremely low cost, and on long journeys there are inexpensive but attractive and nicely served meals.

It is the endeavour of the railways to please. Suggestions for improvement are welcomed and are carefully considered. The passenger is important and his wishes must be paramount.

It will prove well worth your while to find out what the railways can do regarding that trip you have in mind. Our agents everywhere are at your service.

PRIZES GIVEN AT OAK BAY

Hon. G. M. Weir Makes Presentations to High School Students

Winners of scholastic awards at Oak Bay High School were presented with their prizes by Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, at the annual ceremony in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon. A considerable number of parents and friends of the school, in addition to the guests of honor and the pupils, witnessed the presentations.

On behalf of the B.C. Government, Dr. Weir voiced a general congratulation to those who went up to the platform to receive prizes from him. Before this was done, Mr. Weir stated several criticisms made of British Columbia educational policy, including the one that education was costing too much. On the contrary, in Ontario, where the recent Conservative administration had been attacked for spending too little on education, the expenditure had been $5 more per capita than in B.C., while in Manitoba, Alberta and even drought-stricken Saskatchewan, the education outlay per capita was greater than in this province.

Mr. Weir also did not think the criticism that too many young men and women were coming out of high school and university held much water, and he gave figures to support his contention.

In his introductory remarks, Principal D. H. Hartness welcomed the visitors, and went on to point out the enviable reputation enjoyed by Oak Bay schools, a reputation which had drawn people to the municipality. He stressed the need for regular attendance and also the great importance of sport in building up a man's sense in corporate sense. He touched on various extra-curricular activities of the school and ended by pointing out the opportunity afforded to all young people through high school education.

MUNICIPALITY'S CONGRATULATIONS
Dr. Charles Macdonald, chairman of the Oak Bay school board, brought the congratulations of the municipality to the various prizewinners. He discussed the matter of what a student expected to get out of a high school education and continued by giving several definitions of education. One of which appeared in the Putnam-Weir report of which the present Minister of Education was co-author. This remark served as a fitting introduction to Dr. Weir, whom Dr. Macdonald then called on to present the prizes.

Canon A. E. del. Nunns, pastor of St. Mary's, spoke briefly. He referred to those behind the scenes in Oak Bay educational activities and praised the work of the school board, the high school principal and the staff and the supervising principal of the two public schools.

Albert Sullivan, provincial inspector of high schools, spoke entertainingly of the importance of punctuality. To stress this point, he told a story which had come his way recently. A boy by the name of Gillett had entered class just on the dot of the hour and the mathematics instructor had said: "My, Gillett, that was a close shave this morning." When the instructor told Mr. Sullivan of the pun with which he had started his teaching in a new environment, the latter had replied: "Don't you think that was a rather cutting remark?" to which the instructor had answered: "Perhaps it was, for such a young blade."

Mr. Sullivan said the present generation had sometimes been termed unwanted. He considered it, on the other hand, to be the dunced generation.

Miss J. L. McLenaghan, director of home economics for the provincial government, was on hand to present the home economics prizes. Mr. Weir was the recipient of a bouquet of flowers.

The prize list follows:

CONTINUE AID TO DOMESTICS

Trades Council Will Proceed With Organization For Female Workers

Despite an apparent attempt by Frank A. Graham to dislodge Trades and Labor Council interests in the recently formed Female Workers' Association of Canada, the organization committee of that body was instructed to proceed with its work in formation of a union for domestic workers, at a meeting yesterday evening.

A report on the progress was made by Joseph W. Casey, who stated he had taken exception to some of the by-laws which there had been an attempt to endorse at the meeting for domestic help. He attended as a Trades and Labor Council representative.

When he voiced his opinions Mr. Graham had stood up and told him that he had no business at the meeting which was intended for female workers, Mr. Casey said.

"I asked him who he was and he told me he was there 'at the president's invitation,' Mr. Casey reported to the Trades Council. 'He also said he was a union man, belonging to the steam heaters' union. I told him that organization was not a union and after the trouble this council has taken in organizing this group, it is the greatest insult I have ever had from organized labor to be told that I had no right to be there."

"If the Trades and Labor Council is to sponsor this association, it would be well advised to keep Mr. Graham out of it," he continued. He had nothing personal against Mr. Graham but Mr. Graham was not a union man.

Delegate Charles Chivers attempted to smooth out the proceedings of the meeting, and requested the council not to take too much notice of what happened as he did not think Mr. Graham would interfere further. "I want my actions endorsed or censured," was Delegate Casey's reply, whereupon Delegate Chivers moved that the council support its representative. The resolution carried.

The organization committee of the council was also instructed to proceed with its efforts for the benefit of female workers. Mrs. Alice McGregor reported on the progress which the domestic help body had made, stating its purposes had been supported by many leading women who had telephoned her. She thanked the trades body for its support.

Mrs. Richards, president, was elected a delegate to the provincial meeting to be held June 28 at New Westminster.

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Does the Work

Few Pile sufferers know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories so often may not give lasting relief and why cutting sometimes removes the pile tumor but leaves its exciting cause which may create a recurrence.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. For this an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, said by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, and acts to relieve congestion.

So isn't it better, when salves fail and before considering operation, to try this internal remedy when MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with money-back if not fully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

Little Ground For Complaints

Bridge River Labor Conditions Under Fire in Vancouver; Minister Answers

Demand of the Vancouver and New Westminster District Trades and Labor Council for an investigation into labor conditions in the Bridge River mines, stated there could be little quarrel with the amounts paid. The question of a minimum for metalliferous mines had been considered by the department previously, but the scales paid were in excess of any minimums fixed in other industries and there was no intention at the present time of moving in this direction.

The labor council in Vancouver had been told of excessive unemployment in the Bridge River area and of jobs being run round "like hares" to get scraps thrown out from the cookhouses. While the government could not stop men from going into the district always get food from the relief offices and the policy had been to encourage them to leave the district rather than stay indefinitely drawing relief.

The Okauch School picnic, under the auspices of the P.T.A., will be held at the Willows Beach on Saturday at 2 o'clock. A good programme of sports has been arranged and hot water will be provided.

Miss Margie Watson, of the Gordon Head School teaching staff yesterday evening tendered her resignation to the Saanich School Board. Miss Watson, who will be married shortly, received the best wishes of the trustees.

I'M ALONE II GOES ASHORE

Launch With Eight Persons Aboard Has Narrow Escape Off Here

The twenty-five-foot launch I'm Alone II was a total loss to-day after springing a leak off Clover Point early yesterday afternoon and swamping before her owner and spectators could beach her. The owner of the boat is Robert W. Southwell, 2938 Cedar Hill Road.

There were eight persons aboard, according to Bruce McLeish, 84 Moss Street, who happened to get into the party, consisting of seven girls and the owner, ashore. They were bound for Discovery Island.

McLeish stated the craft was too heavily laden and the upper plank began to leak as the boat ploughed through the choppy sea. As water continued to pour in it was thrown on the igniter by the fire and stalled the engine. The pumps stopped with the engine.

The boat began to drift towards the beach of the small cove of Clover Point. Fortunately she did not strike the rocks at this point and when she grounded the passengers were able to jump off safely.

McLeish brought a rowboat around from the east side of the point but did not arrive in time to save the boat. The launch was a total loss. The owner, Robert W. Southwell, 2938 Cedar Hill Road, was assisted by Reggie Bennett.

TAXI RULES DISCUSSED

No Definite Plan Endorsed at Meeting With Companies To-day

Views of taxi owners regarding suggested rulings to govern their operations in Victoria were being determined to-day as Alderman Alex Peden, chairman of the industrial and trades development committee along with other committee men and civic officials heard arguments put forward by the transportation interests.

This morning the cases of the companies were being heard while this afternoon private owners were voicing their opinions.

Some difference was shown this morning by the companies on the rate question, certain factions seeking a maintenance of the present rulings, while others looked for an upward revision. No definite rate was agreed upon.

STOCK DEAL BEFORE COURT

Company Director Appeals Ruling He Restore Shares to J. Prevedoros

When John Prevedoros, restaurateur, 2921 Euclid Avenue, Vancouver, sold his 5,300 shares of Home Gold at 3.61 cents a share, just on the eve of the big rise following the rich strike at the mine to nearly ten times that price last year, he sued Fred Moore, 5176 Blenheim Street, director of the company and purchaser of the shares, for giving him wrong information.

Mr. Justice Murphy of the Supreme Court, at the conclusion of the trial, gave judgment in favor of Mr. Prevedoros, ordering a rescission of the shares by Mr. Moore, on the ground that he being a director told Prevedoros that his company was on the brink of insolvency and that it would be wise to get rid of the shares.

"Now, Moore knew better and I have a great deal of money," he knew of the strike long before Mr. Justice Murphy went on.

To-day John E. Jeremy, counsel for Mr. Moore, appeared before the justice, and the Board of School Trustees argued for a reversal of Mr. Justice Murphy's judgment.

Mr. Jeremy told the justices that the company on the eve of the big rise actually was in bad shape, with $2,500 owing, three judgments against it, 1,800,000 of the 2,000,000 shares out and only $305 in the bank. Thus Moore was right in saying the company was in bad shape and urging people to sell their shares to him. He told the justices that some of the "big strike" news reports from Home Gold were "simply pieces of propaganda."

George E. McCrossan, K.C., counsel for Mr. Prevedoros, argued that Mr. Moore, director of the strike and the Board of School Trustees, was right in saying the company was in bad shape and urging people to sell their shares to him. He told the justices that some of the "big strike" news reports from Home Gold were "simply pieces of propaganda."

After a two-day hearing, the appeal of Mr. Moore, K.C., of Vancouver, and the Board of School Trustees against the judgment of $8,000 awarded August Hugh Ritchie, thirteen, injured at the Point Grey swimming pool, was heard by the court yesterday.

The finding of the city's local improvement commission, which heard a petition from residents of Pandora Street for cancellation of unpaid improvement taxes from 1934 to 1936, will be submitted to the City Council at its next meeting, James Forman, chairman at the hearing yesterday.

A decision was reached following testimony from residents for whom W. H. Moore appeared as legal counsel. The matter concerns that part of the street between Port Street and Junction of Pulp Mill Road. Mr. Forman, A. R. Wolfenden and F. A. Pauline sat as the commission.

SEES OPENING FOR B.C. TRADE

West Indies Hold Opportunity For Exporters Here, Frank Fraser Reports

From Kingston, Jamaica, with reports of all the trade opportunities, awaiting British Columbia exporters in the British West Indies, Frank Fraser, agent for the B.C. trade mission to-day, he is trade commissioner from Canada to the West Indies.

Upon his arrival, Mr. Fraser was met by Capt. T. H. Goodale, secretary of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who spent all morning taking him personally to visit local producers and spread the good news of opportunities.

"For Canadian producers, the British West Indies constitute a friendly market," Mr. Fraser said. "They give us preferences, but most important is the fact that their business and ours in Canada are complementary. That is, they don't make anything down there that we have to sell or export, and we don't make or grow anything to cut in on what they produce. So that makes it very easy."

"I want to awaken British Columbia exporters to the opportunities awaiting them in the West Indies. The chief market there now is for British Columbia lumber, sugar, flour, canned salmon, macaroni and condensed milk. The market is being expanded. To British Columbia they can send a large direct consignment of the old ones of ginger or a citrus fruit. All their shipments of fruit go into the Eastern Canadian markets."

Mr. Fraser was a guest at the Rotary Club luncheon to-day. He will leave Victoria at midnight on the start of his trip east.

NEW FILMS PAYING BIG

"The Bowery" and House of Rothschild" Are Record Breakers

Clark Gable, screen luminary, will be borrowed by Twentieth Century Pictures Inc., from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, to take the lead in a notable moving picture which will have a locale in the northwest for its background, it was stated at the Empress Hotel to-day by William B. Dover, business manager for Twentieth Century, who is visiting here with his wife after a sojourn in Hawaii.

The new talking picture, said Mr. Dover, will be the finest yet produced by Twentieth Century, producers of "The Bowery" and "The House of Rothschild."

The big picture, the title of which could not at this time be divulged by Mr. Dover, will be shot in March next, and a number of the scenes will be taken in the northwest states. Darri Zanuck, executive in charge of production for Twentieth Century Pictures Inc., and for five years as production chief with Warner Bros., knows Western Canada well, having taken several pictures with a Canadian background, Rocky mountain background, and he may be induced to again come to this country for color, he believes Mr. Dover.

ROTHSCHILD WINNER
 "The Bowery," the first talkie produced by Twentieth Century, said Mr. Dover, grossed $900,000 domestic, and before it completes its run is expected to gross $1,250,000. "The House of Rothschild" is expected to exceed "The Bowery" in box office receipts by 30 to 40 per cent, he said.

Ronald Colman has just completed "Building Drummond Strike" Back for Twentieth Century, Mr. Dover said. Frederic March and Constance Bennett are also appearing in a new picture, "The Affairs of Cellini," which will be released in the fall.

George Arliss is producing his second picture for Twentieth Century, which is entitled "The Last Gentleman," based on a humorous New England character.

Ann Harding and Clive Brook are starring in "Gallant Lady," another Twentieth Century feature production.

TO REPORT ON IMPROVEMENTS

The finding of the city's local improvement commission, which heard a petition from residents of Pandora Street for cancellation of unpaid improvement taxes from 1934 to 1936, will be submitted to the City Council at its next meeting, James Forman, chairman at the hearing yesterday.

THE SPARTAN

ANNOUNCEMENT YESTERDAY that the "Baseball Battles of Beacon Hill," which became so popular last year with thousands of Victorians, are to be resumed, has brought forth much favorable comment from various quarters. For the last month many inquiries have been made as to whether or not the games would be staged again this year. In view of the interest, even larger crowds than last summer are looked for. The charity games proved one of the finest ventures ever attempted here in the aid of benevolent institutions. These exhibitions were responsible for the raising of over $1,000, which was all turned over to charitable organizations. This large sum was money that could not have been raised so easily in any other manner, and speaks well for the ball players and officials who spent their time and labor in putting on the games last year. No doubt the Beacon Hill battles will receive as fine support this season, as all the proceeds will be turned over to reliable men to be given to charity.

One frequently reads about an umpire in the major baseball leagues being afforded police protection out of a park, after an exceptionally keen game, in which close decisions have gone against the home club. With the result that the grandstand and bleacher customers have got into such hostile mood, it has been deemed necessary to provide the "ump" with an escort. But Tuesday evening a big massive, bluecoat was rushed on to the field to escort an umpire out of the grounds at the Central Park after a heated softball game, between two of the senior A clubs. Some of the officials who were along with a good number of spectators became so riled over a couple of calls that, at the end of the game, a policeman was called to usher the umpire off the field. Anybody who has the idea this game of softball is any "silly" game should go and see two of the best senior A men's clubs in action. They might get their eyes opened, and the local girls' team put on some class exhibitions.

In view of the way the heavyweight championship fight turned out, it's interesting to notice what other fighters said when they visited the training camp. Benny Leonard, who was pained when he watched Baer work out. "Where's this ripping, tearing fighter I've heard about," he asked. "Why, this fellow can't fight. He doesn't know anything. Look at him. He hasn't got any idea what he's supposed to do with those punches, he blocks all those punches with his nose. He hasn't any notion of boxing. No ducking, weaving, dodging, or anything. Benny glowered in the direction of the ring. "You're right, he can't win, but who ever won a fight doing that?" Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, had much the same complaint. He didn't care for the way Max held his arms out to the side and let sparring partners hit him in the stomach to the point of vomiting. "He punched never did anyone any good," said Willie. "When I was training I never let a sparring partner hit me if I could avoid it, and besides, this fellow isn't putting enough to be sure of his timing."

Steven Hannan went down to see the challenger. He was very quiet about his opinion, but he allowed "Baer can take care of himself," with a shake of the head that indicated that anyone fighting Baer had a very hard job in front of him. Jim Jeffries, although he had not seen the men in training, picked Camara to win, because he was the straightest puncher of the two. Dempsey qualified his choice by saying that he would have picked Baer if the fight had taken place soon after the American victory over Schmeling, but that he was not sure what would happen after Baer's year-long layoff. Neither Max nor Primo conceded that the other had any chance whatever. That seemed to forecast a draw.

The "out of condition" incident, in which Manager Hoffman asked to have the fight postponed, was drawing down the ire of boxing commissioner Bill Brown and reducing the ticket sale by about $100,000, was explained before the fight as: 1. Ballyhoon. 2. Real anxiety on Hoffman's part. 3. An attempt to put off the fight so Primo would be overtrained. 4. A stupid mistake.

It now appears that the gesture was probably a plot between Hoffman and Dempsey to cook up some way in which they could get Dempsey to work out harder and show what he could do. His trainers could tell him little or nothing, and he was as likely as not to do the opposite of what he was told.

After Bill Brown visited the camp, saw a miserable workout, and went home to broadcast his opinion that Max had no business in having a championship fight, Baer put on the best workout of his entire training camp. Hoffman was looking on in a very pained way at another of the handlers' sides. "Up to him, nudged him in the ribs, and said: "It worked!"

Gordon Richards Has Mount Eight Lengths In Front

Entry of Aga Khan Much Too Good; Highly-favored Hyperion Takes Third

MATE FINISHES IN SIXTH PLACE

Canadian Press
Ascot, England, June 21.—Foreign threats were once again beaten off in the renewal of the famous Ascot Gold Cup to-day when the Aga Khan's Felicitat won the long-distance handicap.

Thor II, Marcel Bous-sac's crack French campaigner, raced into second place and Lord Derby's Hyperion, Derby winner of last year and favorite to-day, was third in the field of ten.

The U.S. campaigner Mate and two other French entries were unplaced in the event, which has become the greatest international event for flat-racers in late years.

The Gold Cup was over the punishing journey of two-and-one-half miles. It was first run in 1897.

Felicitat, a four-year-old by Colorado out of Felicitat, won decisively, finishing eight lengths in front of the French horse, who in turn was a length and a half ahead of Hyperion.

The winner started at 9 to 2. Thor II at 10 to 7, and Hyperion odds-on choice at 8 to 11. In view of Hyperion's dominance in the market there was special place betting in which Felicitat was even money, the others proportionate.

WINNER MOVES UP
After traveling the first half mile Sans Souci led with Felicitat second, Cecil, Mate, Crapom Young Lover, Chataigne and Gainslaw in order. Felicitat was sent in front at the mile with Sans Souci second and Mate running third. Hyperion made his bid before the two-mile mark, striding along in fourth place.

A quarter mile from home, however, they could make no impression on Felicitat, who lengthened his lead to ten lengths over Hyperion. Entering the straight, Felicitat remained far in front and without being challenged, won in a common center. Thor II, coming up fast in the closing stages, raced into second place over Hyperion.

Young Lover finished fourth. Crapom a French Derby winner, was fifth and A. C. Bostwick's Mate sixth.

Gordon Richards, champion jockey, rode the winner.

CUP YACHTS IN TROUBLE

Yankee and Weetamoo Suffer Mishaps in Race Against Rainbow

Newport, R.I., June 21.—A race which was intended to be the first real brush between the three contenders for the honor of defending the America's Cup met with a series of reversals at the start yesterday. Charles Francis Adams's Yankee was disabled in an accident to her mainsail and Frederick A. Prince's Weetamoo lost her spinnaker.

The two yachts and Harold S. Vanderbilt's candidate, Rainbow, drew to the starting line after the race committee announced that yesterday's race would be three-cornered between the three actual contenders. The committee, in the previous trials, had matched two of the contenders and the remaining contender with the non-contending Vanitie, a former cup boat.

YANKEE DISABLED
A sixteen-knot, northwest breeze prevailed, and as the yachts were making ready, the headboard pulled out of the Yankee's mainsail, disabling her.

Rainbow and Weetamoo made away however, but immediately after the start, Weetamoo lost the use of her spinnaker when the breeze ripped the sail loose.

Weetamoo led Rainbow by one minute at the first light and a half mile leeward mark, a quarter of the distance.

The relative positions of the two yachts were little changed at the seventeen-mile mark, but at the distance, Rainbow was leading Weetamoo by fifty-four seconds.

Kenny Lawson Hot To Shatter Record

Young Uplands Club Champ Treks Around Home Course in Sensational 65 to Cut Stroke From All-time Mark; Out in 34 and Back in 31 to Beat Par By Five Strokes

Cutting loose with some of the finest golf ever witnessed on a local course young Kenny Lawson, holder of the club championship, burned his way around the Uplands Club course yesterday to chalk up a sensational 65 and shatter the all-time course record by a single stroke. The former mark of 66 was held by Walter Gravlin, club professional, while the former amateur record was 67, established by Bob Morrison, present city titleholder. Par for the course is 70, 35 going out and the same coming back.

At the time of his feat Lawson was playing in a foursome with L. Harvey, L. Roach and W. Warburton. Lawson, who is recognized as one of the finest golfing prospects developed here in years, has been coming to the front in leaps and bounds. A couple of weeks ago he retained his club title for the second straight year, defeating Morrison in the thirty-six hole final.

EIGHT BIRDIES
On his round Lawson reeled off eight birdies and seven pars, and was over perfect figures on the other three holes. He had birdies at the second, third, eighth, ninth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth and eighteenth, and pars on the first, fourth, tenth, twelfth, twelfth, sixteenth and seventeenth. Lawson had a lapse on the first nine holes, and went over par on the fifth, sixth and seventh when he took a pair of fives and a six on two par four and five holes.

Lawson went out in 34, one under perfect figures and came back in 31 to cut four strokes off par.

Lawson's card, along with par, follows:
Lawson—Out 43 33 55 63 3—34
Par—In 43 33 44 43—33
Lawson—In 43 43 43 43—43

Vancouver, June 21.—Twenty contestants in the British Columbia senior men's golf tournament were eliminated yesterday, after a hectic day of quarter-final play. In the grand championship class, W. B. Knickerbocker, last year's champion, emerged victorious against C. McIntyre, 2 and 1. He met S. Griffiths to-day in the semi-final. In the same class, J. S. McDonald defeated M. W. Sharon, 3 and 2. A. E. Griffin beat R. Motishaw, 1 up, and S. Griffiths defeated J. A. Patterson, who beat J. A. Cameron, whom he beat, 3 and 2.

In a flight which includes ages from fifty to fifty-four, C. S. Battle defeated E. E. Hall, 1 up, and G. Gilchrist went down to defeat at the hands of L. A. Lewis, 4 and 3. T. W. Fletcher took P. R. Stewart 2 up, and R. H. Palmer defeated L. H. Wright.

CLASS WINNERS
C. W. Chesterton proved too good for U. Laurens in the first match of C class, ages fifty-five to fifty-nine, defeating him, 6 and 4. Other winners in this class included E. O. Cornish, T. W. Wynkham and R. H. Fortune.

In the fourth flight of the day, B class, ages sixty to sixty-four, the winners were J. P. Fell, C. W. Davidson, E. J. Chesterton and A. W. Bell.

Competition in the "older men's class," class D, ages sixty-five and over, was keen. The victors in this class were: R. T. Cliff, who defeated J. R. Hall, 5 and 4; W. H. McInnes, who defeated A. Sullivan, 4 and 3; J. S. Patterson, who beat J. A. Patterson, and I. B. Hewer, who defeated F. F. Kennedy, 3 and 2.

All contestants are from Vancouver clubs.

Spokane, Wash., June 21.—Riding with all the swank of foreign dignitaries, sixty-nine race horses from Kansas City passed through here yesterday in five de luxe steel railroad cars, bound for Vancouver, B.C.

Each car was electrically lighted, equipped with automatic water systems and was manned by six "stewards." The owners and jockeys rode in a Pullman car, express charges on the train were $4,250.

As it was a special train and making better time than passenger trains by making few stops, attendants were somewhat mystified at the Spokane delay until they saw a diminutive negro stable boy hurrying back to the train with a watermelon nearly half his size.

Novelty competitions will headline activities at the Burnside green on Saturday evening in contests scheduled to start at 7.15 o'clock. The matches will be played between various women's links of Greater Victoria clubs with Burnside men skipping the teams.

The events will be in the nature of a benefit for the Wenger Trophy, Vancouver Island women's singles championship, scheduled to start at Burnside on July 7, the same date as the Peace Cup Island men's singles play will be in progress at Beacon Hill.

Hitting of Gehrig and Ott Features Wins of New York Clubs in Major Baseball Leagues; Boston Sox Gain Ground B Seating Chicago

With Babe Ruth playing his last big league season, according to his own word, big Lou Gehrig appears ready to become the New York Yankees' slugger hero instead of merely the Babe's understudy.

Gehrig this season is far out ahead in all the clotting competition and one of the most important reasons why the Yanks are on top of the American League despite Detroit's best efforts to knock them off.

Despite a chipped bone in the toe of his right foot, he clouted in eighteenth home of the season yesterday to gain a 3 to 2 Yankee victory over Cleveland and give Lefty Gomez his twelfth mound victory. Red Ewing followed with a one-hit hurrican job to win the second game 3 to 2. The Yanks now hold a half game margin over the Tigers.

RED SOX MOVE UP
Boston's Red Sox moved in fourth place by slamming out eighteen hits and a 14 to 9 victory over Chicago White Sox. The St. Louis Browns, hitting badly, had been rocked the Philadelphia Athletics 11 to 3 despite Bob Johnson's twelfth circuit drive of the year.

New York's other pennant contender, the Giants, added a full game to their National League lead slugging the third-place Chicago Cubs 12 to 7. Two homers by M. Ott, making seventeen for the year, featured the assault.

Brooklyn Dodgers helped out by battering out a 9 to 5 decision over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals. The loss left the Cards five full games behind New York.

Pittsburgh's Pirates returned fourth place with a 6 to 5 decision over Boston. Down toward the cellar Philadelphia and Cincinnati split a doubleheader. The Reds staged a late rally to win the opener 6 to 2, but yielded 15 to 10 in the second INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

A five-game winning streak to-day had carried the fast-traveling Toronto Maple Leafs with them to the pace-setting Newark Bears in the International League.

The Bears' sluggers took one from Albany Senators, swept through three games with the Jersey Reds, Orioles and yesterday carried a doubleheader, defeating the Bea 10 to 5 to have a full game off the lead.

The Leafs' big bats plus some effective hurling on the part of Al Hingworth spelled victory. Trailblazers by four runs going into the third the Canadians let loose with a barrage of hits and before the last man was out had clubbed giant Walt Brown and Vito Tamulis, two erstwhile members of the New York Yankees, for eight runs. The Royals moved above the 500 mark when they beat Syracuse Chiefs, twice, 3 to 1, in the opener and 8 to 1 in the nightcap.

Sons Take Ragged Baseball Fixture

Tillium's Boot Ball All Over Lot and Senior League Leaders Chalk Up 12 to 2 Decision; Tommy Musgrave Hits Home Run With One Aboard

Scoring runs in each inning with the exception of the fifth and seventh, Manager Kim Campbell's Sons of Canada ball players, increased their lead in the Victoria Senior League, at the Athletic Park yesterday evening, when they meted out a 12 to 2 wallop to a weakened Tillium's club.

Minus four of their regulars, the clubmen, with their line-up showing as many changes as the well dressed man has suits, turned in a ragged performance and gave Lloyd Jones, their southpaw ace, his worst support of the season.

The Sons played good ball behind the effective mound work of Tommy Musgrave, their first string hurler, who let the Tillium's down with five widely scattered bingles.

MANY ERRORS
The Tillium's started to boot the ball early, with their bobbles creeping into the play at crucial periods, accounting for many of the runs chalked up by the Sons.

Jones presented a pathetic picture, as he worked on one batter after another, only to have his clubmates let him down in the pinches.

The Sons started their scoring in the first inning when they checked in with one marker. Two more runs in the second, and three in the third gave the Canadians a margin big enough to win any ball game, but before the end they had doubled this score.

Tillium's, battling against great odds, garnered a marker in each of the third and fourth innings for a total of two runs.

Tommy Musgrave, Sons of Canada hurler, gave the fans a thrill in the second inning, when he emulated Babe Ruth by crashing out a long hit to deep right field for a circuit clout. Morgan was on third base at the time and was home in front of the young pitcher.

Jack Bacon, Sons' shortstop, and Alexander, Tillium's centre fielder, shared the batting honors, each getting two safeties out of three trips to the plate.

St. Andrews In Cup Soccer Win

Vancouver, June 21.—St. Andrews advanced into the semi-final round of the local series of the Dominion Challenge Cup soccer here yesterday evening by defeating Vancouver Liberals, 5 to 1. McKay booted in the first score for the Saints, and Stephen made it 2 to 0 before half-time. McKay again scored at the start of the second half, and Morley scored twice to put Saints five up. Liberals, however, broke through in a last-minute rush and Bryan booted in their lone counter from a corner.

VICTORIA IN CRICKET WIN

Defeat Hudson's Bay By Sixty-five Runs in Mid-week Match Here

Led by Terry Pears, who set up a nice forty-four, and Craddock and Nation, who contributed a useful twenty-eight and twenty-one respectively, Victoria defeated Hudson's Bay by sixty-five runs in yesterday's Wednesday Cricket League fixture at Beacon Hill.

Tyrell batted well for the department, putting up forty-one not out, but later batters failed to stand up against the Victoria bowling and the team lost six wickets for ducks.

Hanson took four of the Victoria wickets for eighty-six while Tyrell and Stanton took three apiece for twenty-three and thirty-eight respectively.

Moffatt and Nation each took three for the Victoria club.

Four hits in four times at bat sent "Arky" Vaughan, the Pirates' slugging shortstop, back into baseball's Six Six yesterday, as heavy hitting on all fronts sent averages soaring. In the American League, Heinie Manush clubbed out four hits in six times at bat, to add six points to his average, while Gehring gained three with as many hits in six trips to the plate.

The twelve athletes who filled in entry forms may have tests arranged for them to determine whether they may compete in the Canadian trials at Hamilton next month by applying to B. W. Bellamy of Wetaskiwin, secretary of the Alberta branch of the A.A.U. of C.

PRO SCULLING STARS MEET AT TORONTO

Above are four of the world's most prominent professional scullers who will race against each other at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto this year. Top, left, is Bob Pearce, recognized world champion, who will defend his title. Top, right, is William G. "Bill" Miller, Philadelphia, who is expected to provide stiff opposition in view of the fact that Pearce only beat him by half a boat length at the last Olympic games. Bottom, left and right, are Eric Phelps, brother of Ted Phelps, who lost his title to Pearce last year, and Bert Barry, who took the professional title from Goodsell of Australia, and later lost it to Ted Phelps when one of his arms gave out.

Facing the Gun

By Archie McKinnon

Rec Edmundson, Washington's track coach, who brought along Steve Anderson, one of the greatest form hurdlers who ever skinned a timber, has one cardinal rule for that branch of track activity. He tells his boys, "You can't run in the air." In other words, you can't develop speed in the barrier event if you jump every hurdle. The first point in that race is to get over the obstacle as fast as possible and back to the ground so you can run.

When a performer jumps over the barrier, he loses speed, balance and races.

For that reason coaches have evolved a wonderful technique for their hurdlers, a gymnastic feat which almost calls for a contortionist for its perfection. The actions require a direct kick forward of the leading leg, a lateral swing of the trailing leg and a forward "jack-knife" on the top half of the body while it is clearing the bar. It's complicated. It virtually necessitates the "split" as far as the trailing leg is concerned, and it needs a fine sense of balance. But when it's perfected it sends the runner over the barrier without any jump and with scarcely any loss in stride.

In the 120-yard high hurdles the grown man uses about seven strides as he shoots from his starting holes over the first fifteen yards to the initial hurdle. From then on he uses three on each of the ten-yard stretches between the ten hurdles.

And on the last fifteen yards from the final timber to the tape he gives just the same as a sprinter at the close of a race.

The lift over the hurdle is not a jump, and is scarcely a lift. It's a straight kick forward with the unflexed lead-off leg to a position slightly above the bar with the toe straight up and down, not pointed.

The drive of the runner's speed is sufficient to carry him over as he swings his trailing leg out at right angles to his body at the hip, and to his forward leg at the same time. Synchronized with the leg movements is a forward bend of the body, the "jack-knife" with the arm on the opposite side to the lead-off leg, reaching slightly towards the skyward.

The hurdler doesn't float over his hurdle. As soon as the lead-off leg is clear of the bar it is snapped down and the body comes out of the "jack-knife" with a slight forward run.

SMART BALL TEAM COMING

Arrangements Made For Visit of Home Gas Nine From Vancouver July 2

Well supplied with heavy artillery as well as smart batteries and fielding staffs, Home Gas, Vancouver ball team, will invade the city for a double-header at the Athletic Park against the Native Sons of Canada on July 2, it was announced by Charlie Pea, chairman of that department of the Dominion Day celebration committee.

Including some of the smartest ball players in the province, the Home Gas team should draw good crowds to the fixtures, which will be free to the public except for a grandstand admission charge.

Trummer, heavy hitter on the gas crew, and Don Stewart, brilliant fielder, will be two of the men to watch in the games.

Following are the players who will be brought from Vancouver: Trummer, second base; Cross, first base; Eddy, left field; Welner, third base; Stewart, centre field; Sherman, shortstop; Pamphlet, right field; McCann and Kasper, catchers; Weaver, Epien and Muscutt, pitchers; Ingram, Otrard, Richardson and Thirak, utility men.

Adam's Grocery Wins Softball
Adam's Grocery strode over Peacock's Grocery yesterday evening to increase their lead in the junior division of the Lower Island Softball Association, winning their fixture over an 11 to 3 score.

Foul Bay turned back Goodwin's Grocery, 9 to 7 in an upset, and Liberals overcame Hart's Cycles, 7 to 4. Jameson's Electrical wallowed The Colonist, 37 to 1, and Province Carriers downed Art Points, 14 to 9.

Perched in third place, one game behind Stockers and the Sons of Canada, the Feathered Tribe can climb to the second slot with a win in to-night's important fixture.

Lonnie Murray, youthful hurler, is expected to parade to the hillock for Stockers, with Wally Scott, snappy receiving ace, completing the battery.

On Tuesday evening Stockers played grid ball and humbled the smart Sidney nine for the first time this season. To-night they feel confident they will be able to take the measure of the Eagles.

CLIMAX OF LITTLE'S BRILLIANT GOLF WIN
"I feel like I might shoot some pretty good golf to-day," Lawson Little, twenty-three-year-old Stanford University junior, said as he entered the British amateur golf championship finals at Prestwick, Scotland recently. And he did. Stinking fifteen and twenty-foot putts, the young U.S. star captured the match and title without losing a single hole in the final round, winning by the record margin of 14 and 13. In this picture Little, the third American in thirty years to win the title, is shown (right) being congratulated by his vanquished opponent, James Wallace, an unemployed Scotch carpenter.

STOCKERS TO MEET EAGLES
Second Berth at Stake in This Evening's Twilight Baseball League Game

Anxious to displace Stockers from second place in the Twilight Baseball League standing, Manager Scotty Robinson will send Joe Emery, his speedball mound ace, to the hillock this evening when the Eagles battle the moving men in a league fixture at the Athletic Park at 6:15 o'clock.

CLIMAX OF LITTLE'S BRILLIANT GOLF WIN
"I feel like I might shoot some pretty good golf to-day," Lawson Little, twenty-three-year-old Stanford University junior, said as he entered the British amateur golf championship finals at Prestwick, Scotland recently. And he did. Stinking fifteen and twenty-foot putts, the young U.S. star captured the match and title without losing a single hole in the final round, winning by the record margin of 14 and 13. In this picture Little, the third American in thirty years to win the title, is shown (right) being congratulated by his vanquished opponent, James Wallace, an unemployed Scotch carpenter.

Oaklands, George Jay Win Softball Titles

Take Boys' and Girls' Crowns, Respectively, in City School League; Competition Keen in All Sections

Defeated but once in the entire schedule, Oaklands' top-day stood crowned softball championships of the Victoria School Sports Association following their recent one-run victory over Boys' Central in the play-off.

In the girls' section, George Jay, champions of the south section, held the laurels in their class, having beaten Victoria West by a like margin for the title. The runners-up were champions of the north section.

Results of the games which brought to a close the school sport year, indicate the closeness of the play. In the north section of the boys' department, only two points separated the third and fourth teams from the second, Sir James Douglas was the only school in the south section which did not stand a chance having passed through a series of four fixtures without breaking into the win column.

The girls of that school, however, made a better showing, placing second to the champions, with but two points separating them.

Vancouver Cricket Player Sets Mark

Vancouver, June 21.—What is believed to be a Canadian record was created here yesterday, when Norman Pearson made 221 runs in Wednesday League match play for Lewis Cricket Club against Sons of England. The latter came through with 310 runs, while the Lewis Cricket Club turned in 293 runs for a total of 604 for four and one-half hours' play.

In five times at bat this year, Pearson has scored over a century each time, and records were being scanned here, to-day, as this is believed to have created a record.

The past week totalled 32,000 bushels, compared with no movement a year ago.

Exports of wheat clearances from Argentina for the week total nearly 3,000,000 bushels. Last year Argentina shipped 1,000,000 bushels.

Cash grains demand was not keen. Coarse grains were steady.

CHICAGO

Chicago, June 21 (Associated Press)—Tumbles of wheat values late to early in the week, with prices below last week's top point.

Execution of stop-loss orders accompanied to-day's downturn of wheat prices, and were largely a result of big arrivals both of old and new domestic wheat. Receipts of wheat from the principal centres of the world totalled upward of 1,000,000 bushels for the first time in a long while.

Wheat closed weak, 2½ to 3½ down; corn 1½ to 2½ down; oats 1½ to 1¾ off; and provisions unchanged.

Cherbourg, France, June 21.—An explosion in the battery room of the French submarine Ariane to-day burned a dozen men. Three were badly hurt, but their injuries were believed not fatal.

The explosion was attributed to an accumulation of hydrogen from the batteries. It occurred as the 600-ton vessel was preparing to leave the naval station after an overhauling.

Those sent to the hospital were the chief electrician and two assistants in charge of batteries.

The Ariane, of the Sirene class, was built in 1925. Its length is 216½ feet.

Associated Press
Mexico City, June 21.—A woman formerly prominent in Mexican society was in the penitentiary to-day with her present husband, a chauffeur, both of them charged with murder.

The woman, Senora Febronia Mora de Lemus Tovar, appealed to judicial authorities for guarantees for her life. She was terrified lest public feeling against her would result in her being killed under the "Ley Fuga" or law of flight.

Senora Tovar married Antonio Lemus Tovar, twenty-four-year-old former chauffeur, police said, eight months after her former husband, Prospero Sanchez Guerrero, and her brother, Dr. Nero Sanchez Mora, had been shot to death.

Police said Tovar confessed shooting the two in their home in July, 1931, and blamed the forty-two-year-old, present wife for inciting him to crime so they might be married.

The woman's fifteen-year-old daughter, Nancy, learned last week where Tovar was living and went to police headquarters with the information that led to the arrest of her mother and their former family chauffeur.

Senora Tovar, police said, denied the story told by her youthful husband, although admitting she had fallen in love with him and married him under a false name.

Tovar testified the woman's late husband, member of a wealthy Vera Cruz family, learned of his relations with the woman and discharged him. Police are trying to learn whether the woman and Tovar plotted the killing beforehand.

Are Strongly Urging Em-

of Canadian Apples

Canadian Press
Kentville, N.S., June 21.—Grave danger that early varieties of Canadian apples may be barred from United Kingdom markets is revealed in a cablegram received here from W. B. Gornall, Canadian Fruit Commissioner in London.

British fruit growers, Mr. Gornall stated, are strongly urging an embargo on all Empire apples below two-and-one-half inches in size during the months of August, September and October.

The embargo was proposed by British growers at the Empire fruit marketing conference in London last week, but representatives of the Dominions would agree only to limited restrictions.

The English producers seek prohibition of the various domestic grades from the United Kingdom market during the first three months of the shipping season, and it is estimated 400,000 barrels from the Annapolis Valley or Nova Scotia might have to be withheld.

To compensate for this loss, the British growers propose to give an added preference to Empire fruit by raising the present tariff against for-sign—mostly United States—fruit, imposing a duty of 7 shillings per barrel during November, December and January.

Minister of Agriculture, Walter Elliot is said to favor the growers.

WITHOUT MEN

Girls' Right in Desire to Wed; Romantic Tie-up
Gives Better Break

By HELEN WEINSTEIN

Few people remember—if they ever knew at all—that Angelina Grimke was the first woman to address a public meeting. Hardly anybody knows that Jennie Jones, Croly founded Borealis. But Anne Boleyn's place in Henry VIII's progression of loves is pretty well established in the average mind. Madame DuBarry and Ninon d'Enclos have not been forgotten either. Peggy O'Neil provides us with posthumous romance, too.

For say what you please, the women whom history remembers are those whose greatness was attached, in one way or another, to a monarch's heart. As for women cabinet ministers and in other posts of public life, we cannot prophesy just how brightly their stars will shine in the hall of future fame.

MUST BE A MAN

Women for the most part are remembered because of their association with famous men. There was Helen of Troy. If Troy hadn't had a pretty good fleet and Paris hadn't looked at Helen and decided she had something else, Priam's queen might have stayed in Sparta where she belonged. Cleopatra was a shrewd queen but it took Caesar and Anthony to put her into literature and drama. Dido would have ruled her kingdom and been forgotten if Aeneas hadn't anchored in the harbor for a few months.

Women receive better historical breaks when they have a romantic tie-up. They may win legal victories, mend broken arms, write books, paint pictures. But unless there is a man connected with the feat the act never gets the applause of the gallery.

LOVE COMES FIRST

Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder, well known Chicago attorney who recently was elected to the presidency of the Chicago Business and Professional Women's Club, has announced that women belong in kitchens and homes,

DECIDES TO LIVE

One yank of a switch and Frank Bennett would have been blown to bits and destruction wrought over a wide area of Alameda, Cal. But Bennett, of Oakland, sitting in his dynamite laden auto, bent on suicide, changed his mind after policemen had pleaded with him for hours, and decided he would rather live.

SEEK AID TO BUILD SCHOOL

Saanich Trustees Will Apply to Government For $5,000
Towards New Building

Construction of a larger and more modern school to replace the burned McKenzie Avenue institution appeared certain following a meeting of the Saanich School Board yesterday evening when Trustee Albert E. Hull was instructed to interview provincial authorities with a view to having them make a $5,000 grant towards the new building.

If present intentions go through, it is expected the board will construct a modern stuccoed six-room school at a cost of approximately $11,000. The board realized $5,700 from insurance on the old building.

Failure of the government to provide the $5,000 would result in the board making application for the amount from the municipal council, but it is not anticipated this course will be necessary.

It is planned to erect the new school on the old foundation and, if possible have it ready for the opening of the term in September.

not in clubs and offices. Every woman, she says, would gladly lock the door of her office and throw the key down the elevator shaft if she could only see a man who loved her—and marry him!

Mrs. Meder is quite correct in her deductions. During the pioneer days of the feminist campaign women would not admit that they preferred marriage to careers. Maybe some of them didn't. But then, not many of them knew what a career was!

The announcement that marriage was a state much to be desired, if made by an unwed lady, was considered an admission that the speaker was a wallflower. Such an utterance means nothing of the sort. Not by a whole field of clover! The chances are that the unwed are not the unskilled. If they weren't too modest they could match their married sisters, proposal for proposal.

Frequently circumstances which can't be publicized prevent marriage. Health, finances, a man's previous matrimonial encumbrances all enter. Sometimes the most desirable and attractive women, not being able to hide their brains sufficiently under their marcel, frighten away the men who are only average. Sometimes the

English Develop Bright Sand Brick

London, June 21.—People nowadays insist that their homes shall be built of bricks of a light or cheerful color. They will not tolerate dull or dirty-looking shades of red and yellow.

This is why sand-lime bricks are becoming popular, and there is so much demand for information regarding them that the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research has issued a special report about them.

Although a process of hardening bricks made of lime and sand by steam under pressure was patented in England as long ago as 1866, the first sand-lime bricks were not made commercially until 1898—in Germany.

The industry has advanced rapidly in that country and the output is now about 1,000,000,000 bricks a year compared with 320,000,000 in the United States and about 100,000,000 in Great Britain.

The slow development of the industry in this country is partly due to the fact that clay suitable for brick manufacture is much more widely distributed than in most of the other countries. There is little doubt, too, says the report, that the manufacture of some inferior sand-lime bricks has militated against their more widespread use.

A CROCODILE IN BRICK

While it is possible that the utility of sand-lime bricks is greatest in countries where good brick clays are not generally available, as they are in this country, there are some purposes for which certain of the properties of sand-lime bricks make them preferable to other bricks.

One of the most outstanding advantages they possess in comparison with other materials is their light color and good reflecting properties. This causes them to serve as a cheap and satisfactory substitute for glass bricks for interior work in schools, halls or factories and also externally in lighting wells in large buildings.

Though sand-lime bricks are usually light in shade they are sometimes colored by the addition of a pigment to the materials before mixing. A red oxide pigment gives various shades of red or brown, while carbon black gives grey shades.

Carving in low relief may also be carried out with good quality bricks as the uniform fine texture lends itself for this purpose. A striking relief of a crocodile has been carved by Mr. Eric Gill on the wall of the Mond Laboratory at Cambridge.

You Can Depend on the Man Who Advertises

NINE times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for to-day or to-morrow only — but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good-will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell it if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that to-morrow you will be sorry you overlooked.
